Subject: [FabFac] Monday Pattern Writing following FabFac

Hey Fabulous Facilitators,

Post Monday January 25th Fab Fac Pattern Writing afternoon.

As some of you know I have been helping the development of a pattern language around group facilitation and process. The purpose is to get at the underlying "patterns" of the various methods we all use. So like Open Space and World Cafe share some patterns that are key to why they work as group methods.

You can see more about the project on its website.

<http://www.grouppatternlanguage.org>

Tree Bressen is actually coming to town from Eugene to spend two full days working on patterns Feb 7-8th. As a warm up for that I am working with Raines Cohen to host an afternoon for those interested in exploring the project and writing patterns on January 25th in the afternoon.

I have put up a site to register for this up - it is free but this will help me know who and how many folks are coming.

If you are interested in joining the mailing list for the project you can do so here

Thanks,
-Kaliya
